Nancy Sims has been named one of the 50 Most Influential Women in Houston by Houston Woman magazine. The editors and staff of the magazine received hundreds of nominations and selected the 50 women they thought were the most influential. Houston Woman stated, "Each one of them was chosen because her sphere of influence was deemed 'vast and powerful'. Simply put, we were looking for women whose actions or thoughts can change the actions or thoughts of others. Each (of these women) is unique and spends her time doing what she is most passionate about. As a result, she influences - in a most positive way - a wide circle of friends and associates."

Nancy is in good company with elected officials, attorneys, doctors and other significant women leaders in Houston.
