

San Marcos picks Rick Menchaca as City Manager

Former Midland City Manager Rick Menchaca has been named city manager for the City of San Marcos. Menchaca is president of RKMenchaca, a management and consulting firm. Menchaca began his career in municipal government in 1988 in Lubbock as a budget analyst. He held deputy and assistant city manager titles in Midland before becoming city manager there. He will begin working in San Marcos on May 1.

Menchaca has served on the Board of Trustees of the Texas Municipal Retirement System and is a former president of the West Texas City Managers Association and past president of the Urban Management Assistants in West Texas. He holds a bachelor's degree from Angelo State University and a master's from Texas Tech University.